Final Rejection

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

1. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

- Claims 1 and 2 recite "a plurality of turn tables," which has not been disclosed either in disclosure or drawings.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Imai et al (JP 3-062354A) in view of Kurosu (US RE 37,170 E).

With regard to claims 1-3, Imai et al shows a disk reproducing apparatus in Figs. 1 including: a disk tray 3 which is rotatably attached to a frame 1, for mounting a plurality of disks; and a turn table (PURPOSE section, line 3; English translation) for holding and rotating said disk; an optical pick-up unit 26 for reproducing or recording data from or in the disk, wherein the optical pick-up unit is located between the rotation center of the disk tray and a front panel.

Imai et al only shows a bare rotating tray; does not show a main body and a frame, which is pushed out from or drawn in the main body.

Kurosu shows a disk reproducing apparatus in Fig. 3 including a main body 2, a frame 7 which is pushed out from or drawn in the main body.

It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine Imai et al's device with the main body and the frame taught by Kurosu. The rationale is as the followings: Imai's device is a bare device, which requires a mechanism to accommodate. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been looking for a mechanism to accommodate Imai et al's device. Kurosu teaches a mechanism having a main body and a frame, which can accommodate Imai et al's device. Kurosu also teaches that the frame eliminates a collision sound, which normally generated upon completion of the pull-in operation of the disk tray and eliminates a shock to the disk player by such collision (Column 3, lines 58-61). One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to do the combining thus eliminating the collision.

With regard to claims 2 and 3, Imai et al further shows that when the frame is in the main body, the optical pick-up unit 26b is provided on the main body at an angle of 36-90 degrees as defined.

Conclusion

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
